

Inner Vision: The Story of the Worlds Greatest Blind Athlete

Craig MacFarlane is undoubtedly the Worlds Greatest Blind Athlete. The question, as always in Craigs life: Why limit him with the word blind? Inner Vision begins with Craig being blinded in an accident at age 2 1/2. It goes through his becoming a champion sprinter, internationally acclaimed wrestler, downhill skier and as a regular in the water skiing spectacular at world famous Cypress Gardens. Hes shot a 91 in golf. Ive always said my playing golf blows the theory of keeping your eye on the ball, he says. Craig now makes over 200 appearances a year-everything from children in a classroom setting to 3-time speaker at the Republican National Convention.
